

Update on Projects and Partners in Haiti January 26, 2010

We are thankful to tell you that all reports to date indicate that our partners are safe and wells constructed in the Artibonite Valley over the past three years are functioning and providing much needed safe water supplies in the region. Ryan's Well is monitoring the situation with our partners, Rotary Club of Ancaster along with Albert Schweitzer Hospital and Haiti Mission Inc. on the ground in Haiti.

Ryan's Well is not an emergency relief organization as our mission is to support sustainable development of access to safe water and sanitation. Our partner organizations in Haiti are however accepting donations to provide for immediate humanitarian needs in Haiti. There are also a number of agencies specializing in emergency relief that can be found at CanadaHelps.org.

Along with our partners, Ryan's Well already had plans in place for continued water and sanitation project work in both the Artibonite Valley and Jeremie regions for 2010/2011 with a project of 12 wells already underway as of October 2009. We look forward to proceeding with our planned and likely expanded projects in the coming months and will proceed based on the guidance of our partners in regards to local conditions. By April 2010, projects will be posted for information and directed fundraising. Projects will commence based on an assessment of local conditions by our partner organizations on the ground. We look forward to your support of Ryan's Well and our partners in Haiti once the situation transitions from emergency relief to rebuilding of communities and livelihoods starting with wells, sanitation and hygiene programs. There is a long road ahead for the people of Haiti.
